LIVE Web-TV at the World Cup Final - Tickets

Change of live service platform

All live services will be accessible from the organiser's live web page <https://www.wcup.cz/en/live>

Due to the problems with payments and access to the IOF LIVE Orienteering platform we will use a service called Cleeng for the Web TV shows from the World Cup Final 2018. The Web-TV shows are also accessible from <https://www.wcup.cz/en/live>

Note! To purchase a ticket you need to Connect/Login through Email, Facebook or Google accounts. This login is not the same as your previous LIVE Orienteering account.

Ticket prices:

Each competition will cost 6 EURO for the Web TV and there are no bundled packages.

All other live services are free (GPS, live results etc.)

Disclaimer

IOF, the production team and the local organisers are doing our best in making the World Cup competitions available, at a good quality, to all orienteering followers around the globe at a reasonable cost. The setup of globally distributed live streams from the production van to the follower's phone, tablet or computer is a complex project where there are several possible issues that can appear. We will do our best to provide good quality, fun and exciting competitions at your home!

Status, Feedback and questions:

If you encounter any problem with the live web-tv or purchase, you report that through the Web-TV platform (Cleeng) with the available FAQ and Support links.

If you have any general feedback, please report it to live@orienteering.org. We will read all feedback. If you want to find the status of the streams, you will find it on <https://www.wcup.cz/en/>.

Due to the big variation in type of device that our followers use, we strongly recommend checking the supported devices section <https://help.livestream.com/hc/en-us/articles/217740367-Requirements-Supported-Browsers> and try another device if it is not working on one.
